

In 2015 we decided to hit the beaches at Sodwana and make some memories.

Early mornings were the name of the game.

And no wonder, there was a lot to do be done.

There were turtles to be selfied...

Poses to be struck...

And maybe even a little bit of underwater sokkieing to be had.

A photograph of a sunset over the ocean, framed by the dark silhouettes of trees in the foreground. The sun is low on the horizon, creating a bright, shimmering reflection on the water's surface. The sky is filled with soft, golden light and scattered clouds. The overall mood is serene and contemplative.

It was hard work.

But at the end of the day, not much is going to beat a holiday spent under the sea.
